GATHERING OF THE COUNCIL

The 21st Annual Gathering of the Council by Live Video Conference was held on Saturday at the end of January 2018. Council members from around the world were present for the four-hour meeting.

Using current video conferencing technology, we were also able to break into smaller groups for interactive face-to-face video discussions.

Kevin Turner presented: "Mongolian Shamanism: Revival and Implications for a Worldwide Rebirth of Shamanic Practice," with Q&A.

Michael Hasslinger, Vice Director of FSS Europe (FSSE), reported on the 30th anniversary (2017) celebration of the Foundation in Europe, including the growth and expansion of the work there.

Roland Urban, FSSE Director, shared a fascinating account, including video, of "Traces of Shamanism in Europe," followed by discussion and Q&A.

Susan Mokelke, FSS president, talked about using shamanic divination for personal and community problem-solving. Participants broke into small groups to discuss and share about how shamanism might help address some of the larger issues facing humanity.

The meeting closed by sharing some of the helpful and hopeful insights participants had received.

Michael Harner Memorial

AMERICAN ANTHROPOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION (AAA) ROUND TABLE FOR MICHAEL HARNER

On November 16, 2018 a group of Michael's colleagues and former students gathered at the AAA annual meeting in San Jose, California to remember Michael's life, influence, and legacy as "an anthropologist, shaman, scientist, and humanist." The event was organized by Jeffrey Ehrenreich, anthropologist and a student of Michael's, and an FSS Board of Trustees member. It was a rich and meaningful afternoon of touching, profound, and funny remembrances of the ways in which attendees' lives had been impacted by knowing Michael. Jeffrey noted that through his work in shamanism, Michael had affected the lives of thousands, a towering achievement for an anthropologist.

NEW WORKSHOP: ADVANCED SHAMANIC HEALING PRACTICE

The two-day Advanced Shamanic Healing Practice is designed to provide students with advanced FSS training the opportunity for hands-on healing practice using multiple core shamanic methods. Participants can practice "putting it all together" by applying multiple core shamanic healing methods in a solo session for another student. The first workshop was taught by Susan Mokelke, July 2017, in the San Francisco Bay Area. Several FSS faculty are in training, and we expect the workshop to be offered in additional locations in 2019. Learn more about the training and prerequisites: https://shamanism.org/workshops/calendar.php?Wkshp_ID=37
